II. Extension Activities:

The Pigman (select 1)

1. There are many references to psychology and Sigmund Freud in The Pigman. Research Freud's theories of psychology and personality development. Then write a 2-3-page essay that analyzes two of the characters in the book according to his methods. Cite each character's behavior and what they say and think as evidence for your conclusions. Use Writing Rubric RL CP, or Exp. CP.
2. Imagine you are a musical director for a film version of The Pigman. Your task is to select music for twelve major episodes of the novel. List the episodes and then write down your recommendations for music that would be appropriate for each episode and explain why each of your selections fits the mood and outcome of the scene.
3. Rewrite a chapter in The Pigman from Mr. Pignati's point of view. Where appropriate have him offer his reflections on John, Lorraine, Conchetta, Bobo, and his relationships with these characters. In your retelling, use vocabulary and thoughts appropriate for a person of Mr. Pignatti's age, experience and personality. Use Writing Rubric RL CP.
4. Teacher generated activity, approved by the site administrator.

III. Evaluation

- See your teacher for a unit test, or final course evaluation.
- All writing assignments must meet the proficient level of the writing rubric provided by the teacher.
- All textbook work must meet the 70% accuracy level.
